

KEOPS

Keops, hailing from Rijeka, Croatia, has evolved from its metal roots into a dynamic force on the international music scene. After returning to their core metal sound, the band made a bold decision: switching to English lyrics, which significantly intensified their style.

Their album “Road to Perdition”, released in March 2022 under NoCut Entertainment, marked the beginning of their global journey. Since then, Keops has been thrilling audiences across Europe.

Highlights of their career include support slots for bands like Overkill, Therion, Alestorm, and Rage, as well as sharing the stage with vocal legend Bruce Dickinson and the iconic British band Tygers of Pan Tang.

In 2025, the band underwent a major transformation: with the addition of Vana, Keops became a female-fronted band.
