FULL INFO

THE LAST INTERNATIONALE, also known as TLI, is a NY band formed by singer Delila Paz and guitarist Edgely. Their debut album, We Will Reign, was released on Epic Records in 2014. The record was produced by Grammy Award-winning rock producer Brendan O'Brien and features drummer Brad Wilk (Rage Against the Machine), who joined and toured with the band throughout the duration of that record cycle. The Last Internationale's second album Soul On Fire was released October 2019. The album was executive-produced by Tom Morello with Joey Castillo (Queens of the Stone Age) on drums. The album's first single, "Hard Times," reached #1 on the iTunes blues charts in the UK and hit the top 20 in many different countries around the world.

In 2020, the band released Live at Arda Recorders, a live studio album that was recorded during the covid lockdowns. In June 2021, TLI's Delila Paz was featured in Tom Morello's song "Radium Girls" alongside Aimee Interrupter of The Interrupters, Nadya Tolokonnikova of Pussy Riot, and Mish Way of White Lung. The Last Internationale's long-anticipated 3rd studio album, Running for a Dream, was released on March 31, 2023. It features Joey Castillo and Eloy Casagrande of Sepultura on drums.

Especially known for their powerful live performances, TLI has shared the stage with acts such as Robert Plant, Neil Young, The Who, Kings of Leon, Slash, Scott Weiland, Weezer, One Republic, Tom Morello, Lenny Kravitz, Incubus, Royal Blood, The Cult, Rival Sons and many more. This past summer, they toured with KISS, Deep Purple, and opened for Guns and Roses and played most of the major festivals throughout Europe, including Pink Pop, Rock Werchter, Hellfest, Mad Cool, Lollapalooza, and Hyde Park.

TLI was featured on David Letterman and more recently on the hit tv show Taratata in France. The Last Internationale recently finished their summer tour in Europe, opening for Guns N' Roses and playing various festivals. Their music can be heard on TV shows such as The Blacklist, Banshee, True Detective, and others.

Tom Morello (Rage Against The Machine, Audioslave): "The Last Internationale are one of my favourites in the next wave of rebel rockers. They're raw and real and mix East Village rock sensibilities with Battleship Potemkin firepower."
